DELEGATION TO OPPOSE HORSE WAGERING BILL

Rev. Richard Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Cameron, will head a delegation in opposition to the pari-mutuel betting bill at House committee hearings today (Thursday). The hearing is scheduled to start at 2:30 p.m.

Charles Mathews, Freshman Legistator of the Year, Arkansas House of Representatives; Don Friend, member of the executive board of Texas Baptist Convention; and A. D. Moore, Beaumont attorney.

Rev. Freeman said he had organized the Statewide Committee Against Pari-Mutuel Wagering to make a more effective stand against the pending legislation. Hays, 2 Incumbents Elected

A 93-vote city election was canvassed Tuesday night by the City Council after incumbents Starrett Hickman and Lawrence Zotz and candidate John Hays were elected.

Zotz drew 90 votes, Hays and Hickman 82 each in one of the smallest electoral turnouts in recent city history. Turnout in the city election last year was only about 130 votes, according to City Secretary Buddy Fuller.

Four write-ins drew:

John A. Smith, 2 votes; Carroll Green, 2 votes; E. L. Wied, 1 vote; and Porter Young, 2 votes.

The newly elected or re-elected councilmen will take the oath of office in the next regular Council meeting April 18.

In other action, Mayor Bassel Wilson advised councilmen efforts would be made to get an additional $11.0 matching grant from the Federal Aviation Agency to put down a hot-mix surface rather than double-coat penetration at Cameron Airpark.

Councilmen discussed the prospects of having an official opening of Cameron Airpark with invitations going to high state officials to participate. Air clubs and flyers from several parts of Texas will be invited, Mayor Wilson said.

In routine reports, Councilmen noted that three water and sewer connections had been made and 300 feet of water pipe laid in Zarosky Addition. And two diving boards have been ordered for the Municipal Swimming Pool.

Mowers are being utilized to cut grass at the Airpark and other lots around the community, paid for by property owners.

Earle said engineers from Joe J. Rady Assocs., of Fort Worth, were working on engineering the street projects proposed in the 100-block program.

Mayor Wilson noted in a recent comparison of Cameron water rates with a state average of 377 communities, that city rates are cheaper.

He noted:

	City-State Avg.
Min. bill, 3,000 gals	$2.25	$2.50
5,000 gal charge	2.95	3.65
10,000 gal charge	4.90	5.75
20,000 gal charge	7.95	9.93
100,000 gal charge	31.95	33.65

67 VOTE TIE AWAITS RULING BY COMMISSION

Voting for Cameron school trustees was predictably light Saturday with three unopposed candidates elected.

Races and write-in candidates in other schools brought voters out around the county.

In Cameron 94 votes were cast. Charles McDermott (incumbent) drew 92 votes, Forrest Sapp (incumbent and board secretary) drew 77 votes and Dr. John Martin, 71. Write-in votes were cast for Don Humble, E. L. Wied and Morris Eplen.

School Supt. D. R. Dodson said the new board would meet for the first time Thursday.

Buckholts will probably have a called election following a 67-vote tie between Stanley Glaser and Elbert Svetlik. Commissioners Court will canvass votes Monday, April 10, and if a run-of is necessary, will set an election date, according to Buckholts school officials.

Wilburn Beckhusen was elected to the Buckholts board with 82 votes and Henry Vaculin was re-elected with 78 votes. Vernon Dungan received 3 write-in votes and James Glaser 1 write-in.

In Thorndale, Roscoe Cooley, president of the Thorndale School Board was defeated by a write-in campaign for Herman Weise. Cooley received 159 votes and Weise had 217 write-in votes. James Terry was re-elected to the board with 300 votes.

In Milano, E. C. Westbrook Jr. (incumbent) won a seat on the board with 137 votes and Arnold Kornegay was re-elected with 171 votes. Bryan Graham received 72 votes and Leland Garrison, 67.

Earnest E. Dodd was elected, unopposed, in Maysfield and incumbents O. F. Alford and W. L. Ditto were re-elected unopposed in Gause.

Bennie D. Williams was elected for Precinct 3 on the County School Board with 508 votes.

Cameron Public Library is looking into the possibility of an audio-visual department for microfilm viewer and combination record player-tape machine.

It is part of an advance look at a library's need when book space may be limited. The sound system might be used for "books for the blind" or students wishing to listen to music as they read.

About 850 new books are being put on the shelves in the next 10 days, and another 1,000 or so are to be purchased in the next few months. A list of some recent book additions is on Page 4A of this edition.

Mike Swann, a member of the U.S. Air Force and recently returned from a tour of duty at Istanbul, Turkey, described an Easter Week tour of the Holy Land in 1966 for Rotarians.

He was much impressed by the 70,000 visitors that crowded the various shrines throughout the cities of the Holy Land where the Roman, Byzantine and Arabic civilizations once operated.

They were commemorated by Church centers not only of Christian Protestantism and Catholicism but of Moslem mosques as well.

It was an exceptionally detailed presentation in a brief time and given the awesome impact felt by the speaker who saw that historic part of the world.

6 Record Await 32nd Relay Test

Six records are headed for the graveyard if the 15 or more teams scheduled for the 32nd Cameron Relays 12:30 p.m. Saturday deliver their best.

Yoe Coach Ken Fuqua thinks that records will be set in the mile relay, the 440 yard dash, the pole vault, high jump, shot put and the 880 yard run.

The mile relay record is expected to fall in a race among Bellville, Columbus and Klein, eclipsing Taylor's '66 record of 3:30.1.

At 12:30 p.m. preliminaries will begin in discus, pole vault, high jump, broad jump and shot put.

1 p.m.--440 yard relay
1:30 p.m.--120 yard high hurdles
2 p.m.-- 100 yard dash
2:30 p.m.--440 yard dash
3 p.m.--3:0 intermediate hurdles
3:30 p.m.--220 yard dash (around curve)
4 p.m.--100 yard dash (semi-finals)

Schedule for final events is:

6:30 p.m. awards to winners in field events; 6:40-440 yard relay; 6:50--880 yard run; 7:05--120 yard high hurdles; 7:20--100 yard dash; 7:30--440 yard dash; 7:45--330 yard intermediate hurdles; 7:55-220 yard dash; 8:05--mile run; 8:25--mile relay, followed by team and high-point man trophies.

Record for the 880 yard run is 2.03 by Baugh of Midway, expected to fall before Finch of Bellville, Choranec of Columbus or Schneider of Sealy.

Columbus' Dodson has run a 48.5 quarter mile and is almost a certainty to break the Relays' mark of 50.6. Cameron's Michalka has run a 50.7.

The pole vault record of 11 feet, 10 inches is due for rewriting either by Bellville's Dittman (best at 12'6") or Kaase (12').

The 6 foot, 2 inch high jump record will be pushed by Krampitz of Sealy who has cleared 6' 1" and Cowan of Tomball and Sutts of Tomball, both of whom have gone 5'10".

The 1955 Relays shot record of 55'6" is endangered by Pflugerville's Mott with a toss of 55 feet. Several others are entered who put 46 feet or better.

Cameron's Chandler will be favored to continue his winning ways though the record of 4:32.3 set by Barrett of Manor in 1962 will stand.

Head-On Collision Kills College Girl, Four Hospitalized

An unidentified man driving an unregistered 1951 Buick crossed to the wrong side of SH 21 near Caldwell Sunday evening causing a head-on crash that took the life of one Sam Houston College student and injured three others. Driver of the Buick is in critical condition at Scott and White Hospital, Temple.

Highway Patrolman Raymond Matter of Caldwell said Miss Pam Smith of Edcouch was killed instantly in the 6:35 p.m. crash. Seriously injured were Sandra Gail Thompson of Rockdale, Kathy Dickey of Rt. 2, Elgin and Linda Johnson of Thrall, driver.

Patrolman Matter said license plates on the Buick did not match registration records and no identification could be found on the driver. Matter added that the man had apparently been drinking and had forced several cars off the road before crashing into the college-bound Ford Mustang.

Matter said the injured girls were all taken to Scott and White Hospital, Temple.

Pork Producers Honor Titsworth

COLLEGE STATION (Spl) Dr. R. M. Titsworth of Cameron was named winner of the state's Master Pork Producer Award here Monday.

The honor came during Texas A&M University's 16th annual Swine Short Course April 3-4. Presentation of a large engraved silver tray was made by Buddy Winter of Lubbock, president of the Texas Swine Breeders Association which sponsors the award.

Dr. Titsworth, a veterinarian and a commercial hog raiser, was selected on the basis of his activities and contributions to the swine industry.

The awards program also included five winners in the 1966 litter testing program in which producers submit pigs for feeding and carcass evaluation by Texas A&M.

First place went to Monte Griffin of the Griffin Hog Farm near Lamesa. He raises Hampshires, Durocs and Chester Whites.

S. W. Lester and Son of Cost in Gonzales County took second with Yorkshire-Hampshire crossbreds. Bill Roberson, vocational agriculture teacher, accepted third place in behalf of the Dilley Future Farmers of America Chapter in Frio County.

Yorkshire pigs owned by A. A. Webb of Bryan won fourth place. Webb was cited as one of the most frequent participants and winners since the testing program was started.

M. F. Deans of Voca in McCulloch County, Yorkshire and Duroc breeder and another frequent participant and winner, won fifth place. He is owner of Cen-Tex Farm.

Dr. R. E. Patterson, dean of the A&M College of Agriculture, said Deans certified his fifth litter from a boar in the test program, making the animal a certified meat sire.

Dr. Titsworth was cited for his 18 years in the hog business, leadership in 4-H Club and FFA work, participating in producer meetings, and demonstrations of modern and efficient swine practices. He raises Yorkshires, Hampshires and Durocs.

Winter said Dr. Titsworth operates one of six Specific Pathogen-Free (SPF) swine laboratories in the United States. He was the first to set up an SPF lab in Texas.

Final Title I Budget Adds $138,194 To City School Funds

Cameron schools received final approval of a budget $138,194 under the Title I program for 1966-67. Original request for the year was $166,821, but this was trimmed to $141,513 following a drop in Federal funds appropriated for the program.

School Supt. D. R. Dodson said $98,660, of this was for salaries for program administrators, nurse, social workers, teachers aides and extra teachers (art and music), $14,086 for free lunches, $14,109 for building purchases and leases, and $6,690 for teaching equipment.

Dodson said the appropriation cut had forced the school to discontinue after school study halls and limited some of the proposed equipment purchases.

Equipment added to the Cameron school this year under the Title I program included tape recorders, tape, control readers, projectors, library stands, record players and listening systems.

There is no prerequisite for becoming a teacher other than being literate in English. The cost is that of time and personal ability. The pay is the gratitude of the student and the feeling of well-being in helping another human being."

The workshop will be under the direction of the Literacy Council Director of Training, Mrs. Ed Schlutt, and the president of the State Literacy Council, Dr. Kate Adele Hill.

Mrs. James Kahler, president of United Church Women of Cameron, said that those attending should bring a sack lunch and a drink will be provided by the local church women.

WHEN VALUABLE PROPERTY CHANGES HANDS . . . . .

What do you want-an EXPERT or PROFESSIONAL to handle the details?

An EXPERT is sometimes referred to as a person from OUT-OF-TOWN. It is worth while to briefly explore the meaning of the word "PROFESSIONAL." Very simply, this word implies a "standard" established and recognized for a "profession."

We know, of course, that the physician conducts his practice and adheres rigidly to ethical and practical standards established for the practice of medicine, or else he's likely to be labeled a "quack." A set of standards exists for the proper practice of the other learned profession, law. The lawyer who does not adhere is apt to be labeled a "shyster." In each of these professions, preparation for practice is a long and arduous process of both theoretical and practical education.

When you want to dispose of property . . . . sell . . . . why not consult with a professional in the real estate business?

Spring Theme At Womens Tourney

Swing Into Spring was the enthusiastic theme for Cameron Womens Golf Association 11th annual tournament at Cameron Country Club last week.

Fran Beard of Austin Country Club was medalist after a play-off with Linda Craft of Garland. Mrs. Beard, who had an 81 gross, won the play-off on number-two green in the first play-off of Cameron Women's tournament history.

Fifty-three entrants registered for the day which opened with coffee and light pastries served as guests arrived and ended in the evening following dinner and presentation of awards. Mrs. Owen Smith of Rosebud was tournament chairman and Mrs. Niley J. Smith was co-chairman.

Golfers were from Rockdale, Georgetown, Austin, College Station, Temple, Rosebud, Marlin, Waco, Garland, New Braunfels, Hearne and Hillsboro.

Decorations throughout the club house followed the Swing Into Spring theme. Branches on a tree in the entry room held red birds and a rope of rosebuds formed a swing beside the registration table. Centerpieces for the coffee table and later on the buffet-dinner and dessert serving tables were polished driftwood entwined with lilacs and smilax and highlighted with miniature white birds.

A garden scene with white wrought iron furniture under a lilac tree filled one corner of the ballroom where dinner was served. Wicker baskets with lilacs and smilax and colorful butterflies lined the tables.

Mrs. Ray Lester was in charge of decorations assisted by Mrs. Jimmy Lester and Mrs. Bill Dase.

At the business meeting following the dinner Mrs. Bob Wells, Association president, welcomed guests. Awards were presented by Mrs. Warren Rinn and Mrs. Melvin Ford.

Prizes were:

1st Flight - Chic Norcross of Waco, 1st, 73 net; Amy Ford of Cameron, 2nd, 74 net; Billie Janeway, Temple, 3rd, 75 net; Linda Craft of Garland, 4th, 76 net.

Mrs. S. H. Richardson, Mrs. John Davis and Mrs. Alvin Nolte were in charge of arrangements for the morning coffee, sandwiches and soft drinks served on the course, punch served at the end of play, and the closing dinner.

THE FIGHT IN THE CALABOOSE

By Jesse Wilkerson

Much, perhaps too much, has been dramatized on radio, television and the movies of the famous gun fight at "OK Corral." But, to my knowledge, nothing has been recorded of the fist fight in the old "Calaboose" in Cameron. In the vernacular of the times, it too was a humdinger.

Nothing is fictitious about this story, except the names of Ben and Bob, brothers of near the same age. These young men lived on a farm a few miles south of town, in the post oak and sand hill country, near old Cone Switch.

Hard farm work had toughened them. As the saying went "Both were as strong as an ox." But it was not all work and no play. In their leisure hours they devised ingenious schemes and projects for excitement and entertainment.

One of their favorite sports was catching black runner snakes. Holding one by the tail, they could snap off the snake's head by swinging it like a whip. Another daredevil stunt was to cut a tree and ride it to the ground. No horse or steer was too wild to ride.

But most of all, these two liked nothing better than a good fight. They weren't downright mean, but, as they put it, "It's just lots of fun."

As was the custom in those days, Saturdays brought the country people to town. And it was a rare thing if Ben and Bob did not engage in a fight. Their presence in town had long since been a source of annoyance to the Town Marshal.

He had reached the limit of his patience, when he came upon the two about to start another fight. "Just one more scrap by you," he told them, 'and I'm going to lock you up."

Now, you just can't do that, Marshal," Ben protested. And Bob added, "Nobody's ever arrested, long as it's a fair fight."

"Well, maybe you're right," replied the Marshal. "But this time I'm locking you two wild hyenas up for just wanting to fight."

So he marched the two culprits off to the calaboose. As he locked the door, the Marshal said, You can stay there 'til you cool off."

It didn't work out that way. It wasn't long until things got hot in the hoosegow.

The night before, two other men had been locked up to sleep off a drunk. Both were big and as mean as they come. Ben and Bob's entrance infuriated them.

Harsh words flew, and the fireworks started. Noise of the combat drew a curious crowd from the Courthouse square. They gathered at the barred windows, thoroughly enjoying the battle inside.

When the Marshal arrived, the tumult had subsided. Then he opened the door and saw the wreckage. his face reading utter dismay. Wooden bunks were splintered and straw from the mattresses littered the floor. The two big men lay prone, knocked out cold. Ben and Bob grinned broadly, despite their bruises, with the satisfied look of twin tomcats who ate canaries.

"Come out of there, you two," the Marshal yelled in a furious voice. Dog take your onery hides. You've ruined my calaboose. Get your horses, get out of town. Don't come back, you hear! Get! Get!"

Rites In Taft Monday For Mrs. C. Presley

Word was received in Cameron by relatives and friends of the death of Mrs. Calvin Presley on Saturday, April 1, at her home in Taft, Texas. Mrs. Presley was the former Sallie Ethridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Ethridge, a pioneer Milam County family.

Mrs. Presley was born in Troy, South Carolina and came to Texas as a very small child with her parents who settled in the Buckholts community, later moving to the Marlow community. She grew up and attended shcool there.

She was married to Calvin Presley, son of a Presbyterian minister who was the pastor of the Marlow Presbyterian Church for many years. In their early married life her husband was employed by the R. L. Batte Gins in Milam County and he with his family later moved to Taft, where he continued the same type of work. He died a number of years ago, and is buried in Taft.

Mrs. Presley is survived by four sons of Taft, and a daughter of Corpus Christi; two sisters of Beaumont, one sister of Tulsa, two brothers of Corpus Christi, and one brother of Fort Worth. Her three oldest sons, Larry, David and John F. Presley preceded her in death.

Funeral services were at 2 p.m. Monday from the First Presbyterian Church, Taft, and burial was in Taft.

Funds Okayed For New FHA Operating Loans

The Farmers Home Administration has funds available for making both initial and subsequent loans on the operating loan program, according to Henry N. Ivey, Milam County supervisor.

Operating loans are limited to $35,000 for one loan to an individual and may be used to enlarge or establish a livestock enterprise such as a purchase of 100 head of beef cattle, 3 or 4 bulls, establish pastures or provide fencing and water supply, Ivey said.

Applicants who were rejected for operating loans because of lack of loan funds may now apply. This includes presently indebted borrowers who were turned down for loans for purchase of equipment and livestock because of restrictions during the shortage of funds.

Ivey said the Farmers Home Administration office may be contacted for discussion of loans any Wednesday from 8 a.m. until noon.

Dry Soil Affects Chinch Bug Count

By J. D. Moore

Insect infestations are greatly affected by weather conditions. Dry conditions favor some insects such as chinch bugs while heavy rainfall conditions decrease populations of certain aphids.

Because of the large number of acres retired to grass, a heavy population of chinch bugs occurred last summer and fall. Much organic stalk residue was plowed into soil last fall that did not decompose due to dry weather, and this created a condition favorable to chinch bug hibernation. These insects go through the winter as adults. Few survive the winter, but enough get by to start a new generation each spring.

The chinch bug is a small insect not more than 1-6 or 1-5 inch in length. The front wings are white, with a black spot near the middle of each outer margin. The body is grayish black.

The best time to check for chinch bug infestation is between 2 and 3 in the afternoon. At these hours the soil temperature increases and stimulates insect activity. Usually chinch bug crop damage is more noticeable on very young grain sorghum and this occurs during periods of continued dry weather. Since these insects move up and down in the dry soil surface, good rains that run the soils together discourage chinch bug development and helps young plants outgrow the damage.

Because of limitations in the use of certain insecticides, those with less residues should be used on forage crops where dairy cattle and beef cattle for slaughter are to graze. Sevin, methyl Parathion, low volume Malathion, Diazinon, etc., may be used. In treating field crops some of the more residual type of insecticides such as Dieldrin, Toxaphene, Guthion, may be used at the rate of 1 to 2 quarts per acre applied to the lower parts of the plants where chinch bugs are congregated. A guide MP-339, Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on grain and forage chops is available at the county agent's office.

Announcing Buick's new GS-340.

(The minipriced GS-400.)

If you read the papers, you know how great our now-famous GS-400 is. (It's the one in the background.)

And you also know you don't get a GS-400 for peanuts. It's a great car. But it's just a little rich for some people.

So we set to work and designed the GS-340. It has a smaller engine (but the whole machine weighs less). Its interior is clean and simple and tasteful. And it has its own ornamentation, paint job (see the rally stripe and hood scoops?), and, of course, all the GM safety features.

So now you have a car that costs less than the GS-400, but one with its own special brand of excitement.

How can you beat that kind of a combination?

Entered as second-class matter at the Post Office in Cameron, Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 1, 1879. Published every Thursday.

100 Blocks Apaving . . . .

One of the most significant, and overdue physical improvements soon to begin realization is construction of about 100 blocks of new city streets in residential Cameron.

Engineers of Joe J. Rady & Assocs., and a San Antonio firm specializing in street finance and development are at work in Cameron this week.

Their efforts, and the support of property owners throughout the areas already mapped for new streets and hopefully, curbing, will be vital in making a residential improvement second to none.

It will not only beautify, but will make traffic safety a reality.

Of the many things done in the past decade for city improvement, most have been underground or out of sight. These streets will much be seen, by industrial prospects, by new residents and that invisible force vital to every community, civic pride.

We have a relatively new water and sewer plant system, distribution system for both, vastly improved drainage which will be even better with modern paved and curbed streets.

Each new street will encourage the property owner to improve his home and lot and whole neighborhoods, already proven throughout Cameron, will blossom remodeled homes, new housing and paint jobs.

So the safety factor, the beauty factor and the service factor of this new, rather comprehensive paving program are of considerable importance to Cameron.

A Better Recipe . . . .

The lignite slag aggregate used in working pavement repairs could be used in better composition with bonding agents.

City workmen put down the stuff last week in an effort to fill cracks and depressions in downtown streets.

Unless traffic does a quick job of it, the material is not adhering to the old pavement.

The measure is an interim job, presumably awaiting the time when downtown streets, curbs and sidewalks will be rebuilt through an urban renewal program.

It takes a certain "combination of ingredients" to employ the aggregate as a surfacing agent on pavement. It would be a good idea, wouldn't it, if the City got a better recipe?

What Others Say . . . .
The Soft Life

While most of us are worrying about tax increases, buying automobile tags and April 15, a Democratic congressman from New York is dreaming about Paris and Rome and Madrid.

And he wants us to make his dreams come true—his and those of his fellow members of Congress.

Representative Abraham J. Multer has introduced a bill to provide for two annual government-paid vacations for congressmen—each a two-week vacation, one abroad and one within the United States. The Government would also pick up the tab for the holidaying congressman's companion.

And then there's the war in Vietnam.—

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

According to a copy of a newspaper I pulled off my front gate yesterday before it broke down—my gate is sort of like my financial situation, so delicately balanced the slightest additional load could collapse it—53 percent of the crime in this country is committed by youths 19 years or younger, mostly by 15 and 16-year-olds.

Since the figures came from a national crime study committee I suppose they are accurate, although I know of very few bankers 19 years old or less who have been convicted and you rarely hear of a 17-year-old politician caught misappropriating funds.

At any rate, in the same paper there was an article saying the bulk of the working and spending force in America is now under 30 years of age. There are older people working and spending of course, but the majority is under 30, and any company wanting to sell big has to reach that group, and any politician wanting to win an election has to get that vote.

I won't argue with these statistics, but I got to thinking. If a majority of the money and the votes is in the hands of people under 30, and most of the crime is committed by people under 19, what have the rest of us got to worry about?

If there's a crime wave in this country, let the youngsters take care of it. They've got the money and the political power, let them take care of the teenagers. I wash my hands of the whole thing.

Speaking of crime, some people are saying the increase is due to the Supreme Court's recent decisions, but I have my doubts. I just don't know of very many 15 and 16-year-olds who are very well posted on the Supreme Court's rulings. It would be handy to put the blame there, but I'm afraid there's very little connection between a missing hubcap or a shot-out school window and the Supreme Court.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

State Clocks Move Forward April 30

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN

Prepare to move the hands of your timepieces forward one hour on April 30. Otherwise you'll not be in tune with the "times."

Texas, along with virtually all other states, is going on Daylight Saving Time for the summer months and until October 29.

A bill to exempt the state from provisions of the federal Uniform Time Act of 1966 (DST) was killed by a 56-90 vote in the House of Representatives.

House members debated the bill by Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont for more than an hour before rejecting it.

Federal law now requires DST from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in October except in those states which pass specific legislative exemptions. So far, only Michigan has voted exemption.

Broadcasters, railroads and airlines opposed the bill. They emphasized the need for uniformity of schedules among states.

Smith argued eloquently -- but unsuccessfully -- that DST is "an artificial, unnecessary thing."

Operators of theaters, restaurants and farms backed the exemption measure.

Opinions differ as to whether Texas, once on DST, can ever get off. Amendments calling for a "trial run" and for a statewide referendum on the issue were resoundingly defeated.

TERMS, SESSIONS ADVANCED House has approved and sent to the Senate two proposed constitutional amendments. First calls for four-year terms for all statewide officials; second for annual sessions of the Legislature.

An earlier long-term amendment was defeated by Texas voters in 1965. Issue will be re-submitted in November of 1968, if the Senate passes this bill.

Legislative sessions during even-numbered years would be limited to budgets, taxes and emergency measures submitted by the governor. Governor Connally strongly backs both bills.

BUDGET VOTE NEARS -- Appropriations bills are nearing a vote in the Senate and House. Decisions -- plus those on teacher pay bills to follow -- hold the key to the size of the tax bills Texans soon will have to pay.

Senate bill calls for general fund spending in 1968-69 totalling $846,800,000 ($4,700,000,000 from all sources). This is $220,000,000 above the presently appropriated revenues. But even that high figure is $64,600,000 below the basic general fund outlays recommended by Gov. John Connally.

Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris, Senate Finance Committee Chairman, says the Senate bill is $18,000,000 to $19,000,000 above Comptroller Robert S. Calvert's latest income forecast. But apparently there is hope that Calvert will certify the measure without new taxes.

House bill, still in committee, is expected to be near the level recommended by Connally.

Teacher pay bill totalling $136,000,000 is being heard this week.

Senate bill would provide pay raises ranging from 18 to 30 percent. It would allot general fund money as follows:

Judiciary, $12,800,000; public health, hospitals, special schools and youth institutions, $202,800,000; executive and administrative departments and agencies, $143,200,000; education, $476,500,000; and legislative agencies, $11,100,000.

AG PRODUCTS TAX -- A bill in the House would authorize producers of any agricultural commodity to conduct a referendum to determine whether they would levy on themselves an assessment of up to one percent of their commodity's market value.

Funds from the assessment would be used to finance programs of research, education and promotion on that commodity.

Rep. Delwin Jones of Lubbock is sponsering the bill. His proposal has the support of wheat, turkey, peanut, grain sorghum and egg producer associations. It is opposed by the Texas Farm Bureau.

REVENUE BONDS -- House has passed a resolution favoring a proposed constitutional revision which would allow the Legislature to authorize cities and counties to issue industrial revenue bonds.

Resolution by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake would pave the way for cities and counties to build industrial plants, rents from which would be used to retire the bonds.

Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo was one who opposed the bill as a subsidy. He contended, "We will be subsidizing monopolies and industry against private industry."

WATER ADJUDICATION ACT Both houses of the Legislature now have approved the water rights adjudication act to settle controversies arising from the statewide water plan.

A House amendment requiring appeals from Water Rights Commission decisions to be tried in the county of the parties involved apparently will require conference committee.

SUNDAY CLOSING -- A House approved bil tightening Sunday closing regulations was passed by the Senate and sent to the governor after an eight-hour filibuster by Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston.

It knocks out the emergency-purchase provisions of the present law under which many stores in major cities stay open on Sundays.

Present law prohibits the sale of 42 named items -- including clothing, hardware, furniture, utensils, yard tools and toys -- on penalty of fines up to $500 or six months in jail.

Under the new law stores could remain open either Saturday or Sunday, but could not stay open both days.

CONDEMNATION BILL DIES -- Senate Jurisprudence Committee has killed a bill which would have allowed both sides in a condemnation suit to be represented on the special commission which sets the price to be paid for condemned land.

As the law now stands, when condemnation proceedings are instituted by the county, the county judge appoints three "disinterested parties" to judge the value of the land. Senate bill would have provided that the condemnor and condemnee appoint one each then agree on the third.

HIGHWAY BEAUTIFICATION -- Texas Highway Commission has approved a new highway beautification and landscape-planting program to screen 154 junkyards in 86 counties.

If the Bureau of Public Roads approves, the federal government will pay 75 percent of the estimated $664,300 cost. Department began junkyard screening program with nine projects in 1966 and conducted an inventory of 1,220 junkyards, dumping grounds or other blight along federal aid highways.

States failing to cooperate in beautification work will be penalized by a 10 percent reduction in highway allotments. This would amount to $20,000,000 a year in Texas.

Rowland H. Macy is credited with having conceived the department store idea in America.

Milam Savings Bonds Sales Total $81,848

Henry Siebman, chairman of the Milam County Savings Bonds Committee announced today that February sales of United States Savings Bonds in the county totaled $81,848.

During the first two months of 1967 sales in Milam County totaled $147,998 which is 24 percent of the 1967 goal of $610,000.

TEXAS BROWN SWISS COW

Brad-Lou Della, a Brown Swiss cow owned by Fulcher and Terrell of Stephenville has a lifetime production to date of 114,560 pounds of milk and 4,254 pounds of butterfat in 2,431 days, reports the Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' Association of Beloit, Wisc.

TEXAS WOOL PRODUCTION

Texas sheep produced 38.8 million pounds of wool in 1966—down 6 percent from 1965. A total of 5,031,000 head of sheep were shorn and they produced an average of 7.7 pounds per fleece.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When Jimmy Clark crowned the tiny church with the steeple it touched my heart.

Incidentally, I admire Jimmy Clark and I am interested in everything he does. When he brushes his teeth or rides his tricycle, or climbs the sliding board at the playground I admire his concentration and his careful workmanship. And when he cuddles into his Daddy's lap at bedtime or walks hand in hand with him up the church steps on Sunday he looks like an angel.

I think you have guessed it by now, haven't you? I'm Jimmy's mother — and a doting mother at that. I think Jimmy could accomplish just about anything . . . doctor, lawyer, merchant; why he might be President some day.

But whatever he becomes, I want him to be a good man; strong and true of character, firm in his principles. I want him to have God as his partner. That's why I go to church every Sunday and take Jimmy. It's the best insurance I know for a happy and fulfilled life.

IRS Questions

Q - Is everything I paid for Medicare deductible as a medical expense?

A - The $3 monthly payments for supplemental medical insurance are deductible as medical expenses. However, the increase in Social Security taxes withheld to fund this program is not deductible.

Remember that for 1966 taxpayers 65 and over may deduct their medical expenses without regard to the 3 percent limitation which applies to taxpayers under 65. Also taxpayers who have a dependent parent 65 or over may deduct in full all medical expenses paid in 1966 on the dependent's behalf.

Q - Where should I send my tax return -- to the district office or the service center?

A - No 1966 income tax return is required to be sent to the service center although, in Texas, returns calling for a refund can be mailed directly to the service center to speed up processing. If you have a refund coming, you should sent your return to Internal Revenue Service Center, Southwest Region, Austin, Texas 78740. Other returns should be sent to Internal Revenue Service, Federal Building 300 East 8th Street, Austin, Texas 78701.

Q - State income tax was withheld from my pay last year and I also had to pay $45 when I filed my 1965 state return last April. Can I deduct on my federal return what was withheld in 1966 and what I paid in 1966?

A - Yes, both the amount withheld and the amount paid last April are deductable if you itemize.

Q - Too much was withheld for Social Security last year. Can I get that back?

A - If more than $277.20 was withheld for Social Security in 1966 because you had two or more employers, you may take a credit for the overpayment against your income tax. Line 19 on Page 1 of Form 1040 should be used for this purpose.

Q - I was sick several times last year. Do I have to observe a waiting period for each illness before I can take the sick pay exclusion?

A - The waiting period requirement applies each time you were off the job. Details on this provision of the law are given on Page 6 of the 1040 instructions.

Q - How much can you get in dividends before you have to pay taxes on them?

A - The first $100 in qualifying dividends is not taxable. This applies to both husband and wife so each of them is entitled to exclude $100.

Q - I have a company pension. Is it taxable?

A - The full amount of pension received is taxable if you did not contribute to the cost of the pension. If both you and your company contributed to the pension, that portion paid by the company will represent taxable income to you.

The instructions for Schedule B (Form 1040) explain how to handle pensions.

Q - Is interest on a bond taxable?

A - Interest from U. S. savings bonds and from bonds issued by private businesses is fully taxable. No tax has to be paid on interest from state and municipal bonds, however.

Q - How much is the retirement income credit some people are entitled to?

A - For those who qualify, the credit is generally 15 percent of retirement income. This provision is explained in the instructions accompanying Schedule B which should be used to claim the credit.

Q - If you drive your car to a doctor's office or hospital, can you deduct anything as a medical expense?

A - Transportation costs to obtain medical care or treatment are deductible if you otherwise qualify for a medical expense deduction. You may deduct 5 cents a mile for this purpose when you drive.

Note that the deduction is only allowed to obtain treatment. You don't get this deduction if you are going to visit someone in the hospital or if your doctor has advised a change of environment for you.

Q - I filed for my refund in January. Shouldn't I have received my refund by now?

A - Claims for refunds filed in January are processed in four to six weeks. Within a short time, you should either receive your refund or a letter from IRS telling why it is delayed.

Some refunds are delayed because of errors taxpayers have made. If you forgot to list an accurate Social Security number, did not sign the return or have your wife sign it if it was a joint return, or forgot to enclose all W-2 statements, your return will take longer to process.

Some returns are also selected for audit before a refund is issued.

Fabric Designs Reflect Culture, History Of Their Native Lands

Fabrics from far-away places echo history and reflect the culture of their native lands, according to Rheba Boyles, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University.

The environmental influences, the climate, and terrain are often portrayed in the designs of the fabric.

Paisley comes from ancient Persia via India and is named after a small town in Scotland where Indian shawls were beautifully copied in the 19th Century. Its characteristic motif is a highly stylized mango, though some insist it is copied after the pine cone.

Batik is a Javanese word meaning "wax painting." Designs and colors indicate the part of the country from which it comes and are based on objects in nature. Wax is applied with a pencil-like funnel to the areas where color is not desired. As the wax cools, tiny cracks occur, permitting the dye to make fine crisscross lines of color. The wax is removed while the dyes are set by immersing the cloth in boiling water.

The beautiful islands of Hawaii influence fabric designs which reflect the blue of the sky and sea and the colors of their native flowers. The use of these designs reflect the many-colored population which includes Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos, Polynesians, Europeans, and Americans.

The sun-drenched colors of Mexico come to life in colorful striped fabrics. The homespun appearance of the weave is reminiscent of the early looms and peasant handiwork.

Cluny lace was perfected by monks in the Abbey of Cluny in France. The bobbin lace is made of linen and cotton thread, characterized by wheat or wheel designs on a coarse mesh. Today the lace is machine made, but it retains its distinctive quality.

African prints sport geometric patterns found in tribal roves throughout the continent. The highly woven intricate borders, some think, are historical record woven into the design. As in primitive design everywhere, great attention is paid to detail. Here the environmental hues of soil and foliage influence color selection and motif.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Cheating Uncle Sam

Question: what is the difference between tax evasion and tax avoidance?

Answer: five years in the penitentiary.

This old joke is often used by lawyers to illustrate a basic principle of income tax law—that, although evading taxes is illegal, avoiding taxes is not.

In fact, avoiding taxes is not only legal in a technical sense but perfectly ethical as well. Judge Learned Hand once put it this way:

"There is nothing sinister in so arranging one's affairs as to keep taxes as low as possible. Everybody does so, rich or poor; and all do right, for nobody owes any public duty to pay more than the law demands. Taxes are enforced exactions, not voluntary contributions."

Thus, the law itself suggests various ways of saving taxes: by splitting income between husband and wife, by investing in tax-exempt bonds, bu using an accelerated rate of depreciation on property.

And there are many tax-saving methods which, even if not actually suggested by the law, are at least within its permissible leeway.

Then where does lawful avoidance end and unlawful evasion begin?

The most obvious evasion is simply to file no tax return at all. But there are other telltale signs—"badges of fraud"—that the law looks for.

One such sign is a double set of books—the first to show the government, the second to reflect the real facts of a business operation.

Another is a dummy bank account, in which to hide unreported income. And another is a fake claim of "charitable contributions" to fatten the amount of deductions from total income.

All devices of this kind have one thing in common: they indicate a dishonest state of mind, an intention to deliberately cheat Uncle Sam.

Of course, even the honest person may be tempted to venture close to the dividing line between avoidance and evasion. But outright skulduggery is relatively rare. The Internal Revenue Service says that 95 percent of all returns are completely honest.

Perhaps some citizens, at least, share the sentiments of Oliver Wendell Holmes, who said:

"I like to pay taxes. With them I buy civilization."

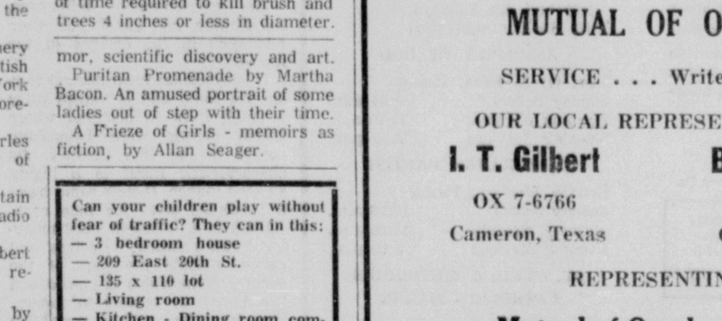
1965: USAC-supervised tests proved that a '65 Ford rode quieter than a $17,000 Rolls-Royce.

1966: After comparison rides, owners of the world's most expensive luxury cars like Jaguar and Mercedes-Benz agreed that a '66 Ford was quieter.

1967: At the Lake Placid Olympic ski jump a '67 Ford took leap after punishing leap and rode away still quiet, still strong. Other '67 Fords went on a bone-jarring steeplechase ride and a gruelling trip up and down the Los Angeles Coliseum steps. The results were always the same: still quiet, still strong.



Year after year, you're ahead in a Ford -ahead in quiet, ahead in strength.

Year after year, we do things you'd never do to demonstrate Ford's quiet and strength. This year's tests were the toughest yet. But the durable Ford came through again —quiet and strong. That's because the 1967 Ford is the strongest, quietest Ford we've ever built. Over 150 important parts have been strengthened and improved. And the '67s offer plenty of convenience and luxury features too. SelectShift Cruise-O-Matic transmission that's fully automatic and fully manual. It all adds up to a pretty strong argument for saving at your Ford Dealer's now.

Quieter because it's stronger...stronger because it's better built.

Recently I was standing on a dock on Lake Austin, watching several fishermen patiently waiting for catfish to bite. With me was a friend from out of state. Suddenly one of the anglers had a bite and hooked into a nice fish.

It fought like a catfish deep and grudging. But soon it came thrashing to the top and the fisherman captured it in his net.

"Oh," my out-of-state friend remarked, "you've caught yourself a drum."

"Nah," the fisherman snorted. "Just an old gasper."

Actually, both of them were right. A "gasper" is a fresh water drum. But gaspergou is the nickname most Texans know it by.

Regardless of what you call it, the gaspergou is one of the least-understood of all Texas fishes. Anglers catch them occasionally, mostly when bottom fishing for catfish or crappie. But very few fishermen go forth to catch gaspers and nothing else.

Actually, there are scant few fishermen who know enough about gaspergous to catch them consistently.

Veteran fishermen will tell you that one of the best times to take gaspers is when a river is rising. There's something about a flooding stream which prompts the gaspers to start biting. They prefer still, deep holes and the bait most are caught on is ordinary earthworms. However, they will hit minnows occasionally.

Fact that the gaspergou is closely akin to the croaker family, explains the weird croaking noise one makes. Many a time, fishing on a still night, we've been over a deep hole in a river and heard this mystic croaking. It seems the fish were following the boat around croaking right below us.

If you ever catch a gasper there's no chance of you confusing it with any other fish. The gasper has an unusual appearance all its unmistakable own. It is silver in color with tiny dots sprinkled around under its blunt nose. It has an overly large, fan-shaped tail, a humped back and eyes that are large and bright. Both anal and dorsal fins are unusually strong.

Ichthyologists say that not only is the gasper one of the few fishes able to emit sounds, it also is the loudest. This distinctive grunting or croaking comes from the sudden forcing of air from one section of the air bladder to the other. When dressing one, you'll find an exceptionally large air bladder in its belly. This air bladder can be removed without deflating.

Another peculiar characteristic of the gasper is the two roundish crushers in the fish's throat, used to crush food before it enters the stomach. Many children call them "lucky stones." They are flint-hard and motivated by strong muscles. The gasper is capable of crushing a clam in its throat.

An average-size gasper will range between two and three pounds, although occasionally someone will come up with a trophy of five-plus pounds. On rare occasions, a bass fisherman will take one with a plastic worm or a jig and perk-rind eel while working along the floor of a lake.

In fact, a friend of mine was bottom-bumping a bait on Granite Shoals Lake, when he tied into what he thought to be the biggest bass that ever swam. After a long and spirited tussle, he brought the fish to the net. But much to his surprise he didn't have a bass. It was a 12-pound gasper.

Gaspers are capable of growing quite large, although anything past ten pounds is rare. Largest one I ever saw was a 19-pounder caught on a drop line. Another jumbo weighed 15 pounds. It was caught by a white-bass angler while bouncing a silver spoon along the floor of Lake Buchanan.

The gaspergou has many bones and a distinctive flavor. Some people say it tastes good; others claim it is gamey.

One of the best methods for preparing a large gasper is to bake it. Scale or skin, sprinkle with salt and pepper and coat thoroughly with lemon juice. Next wrap in foil and bake until almost done. Then the fish can be removed and cooked outside the foil with barbecue sauce added if desired.

On smaller ones, cut off the heads, roll in cornmeal and fry a golden brown. Make them crisp enough so the small bones will crackle and can be eaten. Some people soak them for an hour or two in vinegar before cooking, to remove some of the gamey flavor.

One of the secrets of making a gasper suitable for the dinner platter is to dress it immediately upon catching. If a gaspergou is allowed to sit idle for any length of time, it absorbs the strong stomach flavor.

So, dress it promptly after taking it from the water.
